

A photograph of a large, dilapidated brick building with graffiti on its wall, likely a former prison or industrial site. The building has several arched openings and a weathered facade. Two people are standing in the foreground near a low brick wall.

---

1 / 2

